Zonos

Clint Reid is the CEO and Founder of Zonos, a St. George based SaaS company on a mission to create trust in global trade. Clint previously worked in international logistics at DHL and UPS, where he grew frustrated with the complexity and lack of transparency businesses face in selling cross-border. He left to build Zonos, knowing many cross-border problems could be solved with technology. Today, Zonos has become the most accurate technology-based solution for landed cost and international commerce on the market. Zonos was named the top small business to work for in Utah by the Salt Lake Tribune in 2020.
